better, but still very weak and unable to walk without great fatigue.

When you write again let me know if the transfer of the funds of the Chancery Trust would cause much expense. I have endeavoured to find a purchaser for my vineyards; but I see I must wait a more favorable opportunity for prices on landed property are very low at present.

With kindest regards to all I remain yours very sincerely

My dear Mr Jerman

Though today is only the 5th my landlord has reminded me that my rent is due, and I have therefore hastened to sign my certificate and trouble you again.

I have just received a letter from Louisville, informing me of the sudden death of my niece Ella, the only
